Enriching lives

About the CCRi

The Central Coast Research Institute for Integrated Care undertakes translational research into the development and implementation of new models of integrated care. By supporting the adoption of integrated care in policy and practice, the CCRi aims to bring tangible benefits to the health and wellbeing of the Central Coast community and beyond.

Get to know us →

Our Research

Our research seeks to examine how the design and implementation of new models of integrated care can add value to health systems through improving the care experiences and outcomes of individuals and communities as well as the cost-effectiveness of healthcare systems. Our priority research areas include: healthy ageing, sepsis and chronic illness, mental health and wellbeing, and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health.

Discover our research →

Our Services

The CCRi supports the adoption of research into policy and practice through a range of support services that include education and training opportunities, an integrated care evidence service, and support to the design, implementation and evaluation of integrated care programs.

How we work

Learn more about your goals

This is where we ask you questions to learn more about you, what you want to achieve and whether we can assist. We want to ensure the relationship is a good fit and that we can work well together into the future.

Develop the right solutions

We research different lenders to ensure we find the right solution to fit your unique situation. Once the solutions are found and we are confident of a 'Yes' from the lender, we present this to you and upon agreement, prepare the compliance and application forms for you to sign.

Put the solutions into place

Once the forms are signed and all the required documents are obtained, we apply with the lender, track and update you on the progress of the loan until we reach settlement. The processing time can vary depending on your needs and requirements.

Ensure you reach your goals

Once the loan is settled, you become part of The Loan Lounge family which entitles you to regular reviews. This can be on a scheduled basis or reach out to us on an ad hoc basis. The best thing about being part of our family is helping financing a difference!
